The speed limit of a particular section of freeway is 25 m/s. The right travel lane is connected to an exit ramp with a short auxiliary lane. Cars would have a comfortable deceleration of -2.0 m/s^2 for 3.0 s in the auxiliary lane if they were driving at the speed limit.. What speed will cars have when they are done decelerating in this way?

Assume minimal energy losses due to air resistance, rolling resistance, or other forms of friction and answer the following questions. Determine the speed of the coaster at the top of the loop if the normal force of the rails on the wheels is half the weight of the coaster (that is, if the frame of reference acceleration is $\frac{1}{2}g$).

Most circuits have more than one component, called a resistor that limits the flow of charge in the circuit. A measure of this limit on charge flow is called resistance.The simplest combinations of resistors are the series and parallel connections illustrated in Figure 1.The total resistance of a combination of resistors depends on both their individual values and how they are connected.

Elastic and Inelastic Collisions. When objects collide, they can either stick together or bounce off one another, remaining separate. In this section, we'll cover these two different types of collisions, first in one dimension and then in two dimensions.. In an elastic collision, the objects separate after impact and don't lose any of their kinetic energy.
